Preface ix

List of participants ..... xi–xii

Genetic differentiation of populations of the common intertidal nemerteans Lineus ruber and Lineus viridis (Nemertea, Anopla) by Alex D. Rogers, John P. Thorpe, Ray Gibson & Jon L. Norenburg 1–11

Species-specific oocyte proteins as molecular markers for Lineus taxonomy by Michel Tarpin & Jacques Bierne 13–18

General problems in estimating nemertean relationships on ribosomal sequence data – an example using six monostiliferous species and mitochondrial 16S rDNA
by Mats Envall 19–31

Tree-thinking and nemertean systematics, with a systematization of the Eureptantia
by Mikael Härlin 33–46

There is no support for Jensen's hypothesis of nemerteans as ancestors to the vertebrates by Per Sundberg, J. M. Turbeville & Mikael S. Härlin 47–54

A comparative ultrastructural analysis of spermatogenesis in nemertean worms
by Stephen A. Stricker & Michael W. Folsom 55–72

Reproductive biology of several species of recently collected pelagic nemerteans
by Jon L. Norenburg & Pamela Roe 73–91

Gonadogenesis, embryogenesis, and unusual oocyte origin in Notogaeanemertes folzae Riser, 1988 (Nemertea, Hoplonemertea) by Frank B. Crandall, Jon L. Norenburg & Ray Gibson 93–107

Observations on musculature in pelagic nemerteans and on pseudostriated muscle in nemerteans
by Jon L. Norenburg & Pamela Roe 109–120

Ultrastructural study of the proboscis endothelium of Riseriellus occultus (Nemertea, Heteronemertea)
by Sagrario Montalvo, Juan Junoy, Carmen Roldán & Pedro García-Corrales 121–127

The ovaries of a fissiparous heteronemertean, Lineus bonaerensis, from Argentina
by Humberto J. A. Moretto & Carolina L. Brancato 129–134

An enigmatic heteronemertean from the Gulf of Mexico
by Judy O. Wern 135–147
The morphology of Micrura leidyi (Verrill, 1892) with consequent systematic revaluation by Nathan W. Riser 149–156
Further observations on the genus Geonemertes with a description of a new species from the Philippine Islands
by Ray Gibson & Janet Moore 157–171
A second genus of pelagic Cratenemertidae (Nemertea, Hoplonemertea) by Frank B. Crandall & Ray Gibson 173–198
On the hoplonemertean, Kameginemertes parmiornatus (Iwata, 1957) gen. n., comb. n. from Sagami Bay, Japan
by Fumio Iwata 199–213
A new heteronemertean from the Argentine coast of the Southern Atlantic by Humberto J. A. Moretto 215–222 Biology of a hoplonemertean from the branchial chambers of the pinnotherid crab Zaops (=Pinnotheres) ostreum
by John J. McDermott 223–231
Nemertean predation on the tropical fiddler crab Uca musica
by John H. Christy, Seiji Goshima, Patricia R.Y. Backwell & Thomas J. Kreuter 233–239 Nemertines as predators on tidal flats – High Noon at low tide
by Martin Thiel 241–250
Observations on feeding in a South African suctorial hoplonemertean, Nipponnemertes sp. (Family Cratenemertidae)
by John J. McDermott 251–256
The temporal and spatial occurrence of Tetrastemma fozensis (Hoplonemertini) in intertidal bivalves
by Martin Thiel & Gabriela Francés Zubillaga 257–262 Dietary immunoassay of pelagic nemerteans by use of cross-reacting polyclonal antibodies: preliminary findings by Robert J. Feller, Pamela Roe & Jon L. Norenburg 263–269 Biochemical sex dimorphism in Lineus lacteus
by Michel Tarpin, Philippe Albert & Jacques Bierne 271–279 Ecdysteroids in nemerteans: further characterization and identification by Robert K. Okazaki, Mark J. Snyder, Casey C. Grimm & Ernest S. Chang 281–285 Preliminary investigation of Vibrio alginolyticus-like bacteria associated with marine nemerteans
by Eric G. McEvoy, Alex Rogers & Ray Gibson 287–290 Nemertean collections at the Santa Barbara Museum of Natural History: type specimens and vouchers for Coe's 1940 publication
by F. G. Hochberg & David N. Lunianski 291–300 Epilogue – one hundred years of nemertean research: Bürger (1895) to the present
by Ray Gibson 301–310
